California Children's Outdoor Bill of Rights

The California Roundtable on Recreation, Parks and Tourism has created a life's list of 10 outdoor activities that every California child between the ages of four and 14 should experience. The list is called the California Children's Outdoor Bill of Rights and includes simple, low-cost activities that will encourage children to participate in outdoor recreational activities and discover their heritage. The Bill of Rights includes such activities as camping under the stars, catching a fish and learning to swim. California State Parks Announces Golden Poppy Pass California State Parks recently announced the Golden Poppy Pass, an annual day use pass designed to provide visitors convenience and cost savings. For those who frequent state parks, the Golden Poppy Pass costs $90 per year and provides parking and day use admission to 95 select parks and reservoirs. The list of Golden Poppy Pass parks includes most inland parks, along with Seacliff State Beach and New Brighton State Beach. A complete list is available online. Contact: www.parks.ca.gov.

Southern California CityPass

Starting April 1, CityPass has expanded its Southern California CityPass to include Universal Studios Hollywood, Disneyland Park and Disney's California Adventure Park, SeaWorld Adventure Theme Park in San Diego, and the San Diego Zoo. The pass will continue to include an option ticket for the San Diego Zoo or San Diego Zoo's Wild Animal Park. Also included is a Disney 3-Day Park Hopper Bonus ticket for three days at Disneyland or California Adventure Park and the bonus of early admission to a designated theme park on one day. The pass is valid for 14 days from its first use and costs $199 for adult admission (a $291 value) and $159 for youth tickets, ages three to nine (a $229 value).
